

CITY OF WASHINGTON, ILLINOIS

City Council Agenda Communication

Meeting Date: May 1, 2023

Prepared By: Jon Oliphant, AICP, Planning & Development Director

Agenda Item: Second Reading Ordinance – Comprehensive Plan

Explanation: A final version of the Washington Comprehensive Plan has been completed prior to its adoption. It is available on the City's website through the following link: <https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1odz0s3plGzuRQdvcq61Uic5u7Gx1sdpE?usp=sharing>. This incorporates considerable input received from various stakeholders since the start of the planning process in 2021 and pertinent additional feedback received after the first reading ordinance. The adoption wraps up the project with the assistance of the team led by Civic ArtWorks and in accordance with IDOT's Statewide Planning and Research grant agreement. Citizens continue to be encouraged to offer thoughts on future project or policy adoptions through the project website at <https://www.yourmunicipal.com/projects/plan-washington>.

The plan is geared towards action and making adjustments to current policy in order to provide a foundation and enable the kind of development that will benefit the entire community. It generally places more emphasis on growth opportunities within the existing city limits where infrastructure is currently in place or figures to be constructed in the future. That can reduce financial construction and maintenance obligations and assists in the establishment of better connectivity, pedestrian-friendliness, and the preservation of farmland. It also encourages various housing types and the support of mixed uses where feasible in areas such as the 223 property, the Freedom/Lakeshore corridor, Washington Plaza, and the possible redevelopment of Hillcrest Golf Course. Each of these are large enough and will have future traffic volumes to warrant a range of options. The future land use map uses a designation called "Flexible Use" as a replacement for a current moniker of "Urban Village." It acknowledges that market conditions can change relatively often and that trying to pigeonhole a specific use on larger properties does not make sense. These areas have the long-term potential to act as distinct districts with services offered to residents within close proximity but are also located on primary corridors that can attract visitors from other parts of the city and region.

With more growth encouraged within the city limits, most areas outside of the city limits within the 1.5-mile extraterritorial planning jurisdiction focus on agriculture preservation or residential (rural and hamlet) development as a transition from urban/suburban patterns to rural. A future Eastern Bypass construction does not appear to be on the horizon soon, if ever, which likely reduces some non-residential demand to the east and south of the existing city limits. Like most plans, this attempts to balance aspiration with reality while providing inspiration for future developments. Having such a plan is extremely beneficial, and more often necessary, when attempting to leverage some state and federal grant opportunities.

Fiscal Impact: N/A

Action Requested: A second reading ordinance to adopt the plan is scheduled for the May 1 City Council meeting.
